

CHRISTOPHER CLARK

Dr. Christopher Clark is Vice President of Risk Management and Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion at Huntingdon College, amassing more than 15 years in the Higher Education arena. During his tenure, he has served in and continues to serve in such roles as Assistant Professor, Internal Counsel, Compliance Officer, and Title IX Decision Maker.

Dr. Clark has accomplished a diverse education while attaining his Bachelors in Accounting from Huntingdon College, Masters in Business from Auburn University of Montgomery, and Juris Doctorate, Masters in Accountancy, and LLM from Samford University. Along with his degrees, he is certified by the Alabama State Bar and Alabama State Board of Public Accountancy.

His current roles require him to assess and consult institutions and organizations on their internally and externally viewed inclusion practices, or lack thereof. His experiences working with Private institutions, nonprofit organizations, and public entities have given him insight into the relative gaps between how these organizations see themselves, and how others see the organization. He has often been quoted as saying “My calling is to open the door for those that follow, and to inform others of their responsibility to do the same”.

Dr. Clark is a husband, and father of four. In addition to his family commitment, he is a brother of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity Inc., Board member of Leadership Montgomery, and Board Member of Tie and Doll.
